

The Caffeine Platform That Thinks — and Acts.

The coffee you love, and the lift when you want it — without the jitters, and without the lost sleep. Not less coffee. More, on your terms.

THE FOUNDATION — THE INTELLIGENCE

It knows exactly where your caffeine stands — at all hours.

Caffevolve maintains a live, 24-hour estimate of the caffeine active in your system — rising with every cup, falling at the personal rate your body burns it off. It projects that number forward to see where you'll stand as the day wears on and bedtime nears, so it can guide each cup you're about to have, keeping you inside your personal Comfort Zone — the range set by your own sensitivity to caffeine. Two limits mark its edges: one keeps your afternoon clear of jitters, the other protects your sleep. This is the intelligence beneath everything the platform does.

Each cup spikes, then clears at your own rate — peaks held under your daytime limit, the last cup low enough to clear the bedtime line by night.

But stop there, and all you have is information — genuinely useful, yet not something you can act on as the day unfolds. The platform's real benefit is in what that intelligence sets in motion — the actions it puts in your hands.

FROM KNOWING TO DOING — ACROSS YOUR WHOLE DAY

I AT YOUR BREWING DEVICE

The right cup, brewed just for you.

Intelligence with no device can recommend, but it can't act. A brewing device with no intelligence is just a simple coffee maker. A Caffevolve is different. It's the two working as one — a device that reads its caffeine recommendation and acts on it, blending, grinding and brewing each cup to match, keeping you confidently inside your Comfort Zone.

II OUT AND ABOUT

Recommendations that follow you.

Away from home, CaffevolveGo picks up where the device left off — the same intelligence, in the palm of your hand. At work or your local café, it shows where your caffeine level stands right now, then recommends drinks relevant to the venue that fit within your Comfort Zone — all before you order. Every choice out and about is as informed as the ones at your brewing device.

III STAY AHEAD OF THE DAY

Planned, not surprised.

Lay the day out before it starts and watch how each drink impacts your caffeine level across the day. Fine-tune any drink — at home or out — until the whole day sits inside your Comfort Zone. Maybe tone down the morning drinks knowing you have a late afternoon meeting. Once content, lock the plan in and let Caffevolve remind you of your choices as the hours pass. Always in control.

THE WHOLE DAY

*The platform recommends.
You decide. The device always brews.*
